To the voters and supporters of our campaign.

But as for me and my house...

I've been thinking about what I want to say to my supporters and voters. So many gave of their time and treasure, but honestly, what comes to mind first is what I saw on the doors of so many homes while knocking thousands of doors in this district: "But as for me and my house, we will serve the LORD." - Joshua 25:15

First, I must give thanks, praise, and honor to the Lord. My campaign theme has always been, "On earth as it is in heaven." We must build the Kingdom. I have reminded myself of this for many years and it was no different when this campaign started. This will never change for me and will always be my focus in life and while serving the voters in this district.

Second, to my supporters and volunteers, WOW. Seriously WOW! I have met many new people, grown close to you, and am honored to call you friends. You worked tirelessly because you believe in the values that our campaign will continue to champion.

Third, an incredible thanks to the voters. We brought our case to you and laid it on your doorstep. Literally. I told you what I stand for, humbly asked you to consider voting Vitale--and you did. Like you, I watch and read the news and sometimes want to throw something at the TV or shred the newspaper because of what I see happening to my country and state. But I've come to realize I'm not alone. There are many like-minded folks and we must come together to fight for our liberty, life, family, fiscal restraint, restoring morality to our culture, and honest, servant-based government. Your overwhelming support at the polls showed the entire district and state that you agree with these goals. Your voice has spoken and not only in this district; I am hearing from people all over the state that they have hope now that a person can speak openly about their faith and the issues we agree on, and the voters will respond. Many voters have been losing hope. You have shown them otherwise. Let us put on our armor and proceed forward in truth with charity. We may lose battles, but we know Who wins the war.

Thank you again. I look forward to serving you. This is your victory, a victory for the values that we all believe in. This is the people's seat, not mine. I'm serving you while sitting in it and hope to continue to earn your respect as we get to know each other better.

Humbly,
Nino Vitale
